

The no-call list for the state of Wisconsin is a highly effective tool to stop unsolicited harassment from telemarketers. If the federal guidelines remain as loose as they currently are, it is up to the individual states to set limits that their residents deem appropriate. Please uphold the states rights, as well as their residents right to privacy in their own homes.